CLUB GREENWOOD'S COUNSELOR IN TRAINING program teaches young teenagers the aptitude to prepare them for real world jobs. Participants will learn responsibility, leadership, and maturity. CITs will be teamed with experienced Camp Greenwood counselors to ensure they are learning these essential skills.

What is the process to become a CIT? CITs need to be 13–15 years old and approved by the camp directors after being interviewed.

Is CIT space limited? Yes, this program will only allow a small number of campers to develop the skills of the work place. The smaller numbers allow more one-on-one training and less distractions. There will be no more than two CITs per team (10 max/week).

What do CIT campers do? CITs will attend camp as if they were in an interim position at a work place. They will learn the ins and outs of how the camp is run as a business, as well as the hands-on skills of planning, organizing and running various activities. CITs will always have a camp counselor with them and will never be left alone with any campers.

Why create a CIT program? Here at Camp Greenwood, we have seen many of the children in the area grow up. This is a great opportunity for us to give back to these previous campers and help them grow into productive members with qualifications to become successful in the career paths they choose!
